excerpt from the progressive road to reading introductory book four the paramount necessity in the teaching of reading to children is to secure and at the same time to sustain the pupil s active interest in the content of the story material being read to this end the thought must be couched as largely as possible in language that is simple direct forceful and dramatic the child mind does not easily tolerate side incidents in any story for him these are vain digressions because they have no direct bearing on the course of events every experienced story teller has learned to know that for the child a story must run straight and true and that it must speedily reach its goal there must be a hero or a heroine a complex situation leading to a climax and a happy solution of the problem nothing more is needed nothing less will do about the publisher forgotten books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books find more at forgottenbooks.com this book is a reproduction of an important historical work forgotten books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy in rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition we do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works foreword by colby sharp in the decade since the first edition of still learning to read was published the prevalence of testing and the common core state standards have changed what is expected of both teachers and students the new edition of still learning to read focuses on the needs of students in grades 3 6 in all aspects of reading workshop including reading workshop read aloud classroom design digital tools fiction nonfiction and close reading the book stays true to its original beliefs of slowing down and knowing our readers but it also takes into account the sense of urgency that changing times and standards impose on classrooms this edition examines current trends in literacy includes a new section on intentional instructional planning and provides expanded examples of mini lessons and routines that promote deeper thinking about learning it also includes a brand new chapter on scaffolding for reading nonfiction and showcases the authors latest thinking on close reading and text complexity online videos provide glimpses into classrooms as students make book choices work in small groups and discuss their reading notebooks expanded and updated book lists recommendations for digital tools lesson cycles and sections specifically written for school leaders round out this foundational resource bringing together strands of public discourse about valuing personal achievement at the expense of social values and the impacts of global capitalism mass media and digital culture on the lives of children this book challenges the potential of science and business to solve the world's problems without a complementary emphasis on social values the selection of literary works discussed illustrates the power of literature and human arts to instill such values and foster change the book offers a valuable foundation for the field of literacy education by providing knowledge about the importance of language and literature that educators can use in their own teaching and advocacy work
